I believed is not easy assignment to renovate a resale unit and meet my expectation.

Ronald Aw from Ritchie Creative Design managed to satisfy my requirement in design and renovate my Hillview's unit.

From the initial consultation, drawing board design, selection of material till finalize the construction, supervise of work till completion shown his passion and professionalism in ensuring all details are done to the upmost quality as possible. Not to mention that the number of hours working late in the night to resolve some of the challenges faced by his contractor on renovate my unit. I appreciate the extra effort he have put in, where six months after job completion, he is still active in follow up to check and rectify any to further enrich our memorable experience.

I am pleased with the work he did and proud to recommend his reliable service.

Thank You Ronald Aw and his team
